Senior Citizens Protest Involvement of Greenbelt Homes In Meals Project

by Barbara Likowski

More than fifteen senior citizens attended the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. board meeting on Thursday night, June 22. Martin Holly, one of two spokesmen for the group, protested to the board that GHI was interfering in what he termed "our project", a plan to make available in the community one meal a day five days a week for senior citizens 60 years of age and older.

Holly, who spoke as the delegated representative of the Greenbelt Golden Age Club and is also a board member of Betterment for United Seniors, said that this matter was vital to community-GHI relations.

He emphasized that despite differences, good relations had always continued between the senior citizens and GHI and he had respect for the board's judgment. He hoped that GHI would have respect for the judgment of senior citizens, particularly in respect to "our projects." "We are capable of doing our own thing . . . we are not senile," Holly stated.

Holly told the GHI board that the Greenbelt Golden Age Club was working towards the nutrition program but felt that GHI personnel had unnecessarily interfered by working towards the same project. "We are able to captain and crew our own ship," Holly said.

To get the project underway the Golden Age Club had made a survey of their members. Not only did 100 people reply that they would be interested in receiving the proposed meal one to five days per week, but 25 people volunteered to come and work with the meals. It is this added involvement that the senior citizens felt is particularly important. Holly said that he felt GHI did not fit into these plans.

Director Mary Clarke asked if the Golden Agers had had plans for this program before GHI had made its survey of its senior members (GHI received replies indicating a need for this type of program.) She also mentioned that three years previously city council had referred a similar program to the Golden Age Club and the Club had not been interested. Clarke said she was delighted to see the Golden Age Club interested now.

Robert Dove, president of the Greenbelt Golden Age Club did not remember what had happened three years ago. Dove, a member of the Prince Georges County Advisory Committee on Aging, pointed out that the Golden Age Club was not trying to "hog the limelight," they were trying to be the leaders not just for their club members but all the seniors in Greenbelt, pointing out that they were the only concentrated groups of senior citizens and it's "up to us to get things going." "We think the seniors can do for themselves," Dove said. "Then if we need your help, we will come to you and ask."

Holly felt that senior citizens are trapped here if they don't have their own cars. Because of this he felt a long range plan was necessary to keep people involved, keep them young, make good voters out of them . . .

Dove told GHI's board that he had asked County Council for $2700 for transportation for seniors. He also said that they had obtained a site and facilities at the Youth Center for the nutrition project. A site manager is still needed, however.

Dove pointed out that there is more and more interest in this program and he hoped that Greenbelt would get one in the community before they were all gone. He urged everyone to attend a meeting on June 29 in the Municipal Building to convince Mrs. Benefield, Nutrition Site County Coordinator "that we need the program and have the facilities."

Misunderstanding

Both Manager Roy Breashears and Deputy Manager Ken Kopstein felt that it was basically a misunderstanding. Kopstein said GHI had surveyed, found a need and had gone to the Golden Age Club with it. He said GHI worked as a catalyst—to get other agencies to take over, and does not want to run a program if someone else is willing to do it.

In responding to needs discovered in the GHI survey, Kopstein pointed out GHI had, in cooperation with the Golden Age Club, started the blood pressure testing.

Board chairman James Smith noted that the board had previously discussed GHI's survey and its indications that programs such as the nutrition program were needed. Since no other official body had moved to introduce them, the board had endorsed and provided support to try to accomplish these goals. Smith thought that this delegation represented the first feedback that has been adverse. He added "I regret that something has gone awry." He said "we (GHI) were, are and will continue to do those things that are perceived to be an assistance and in no way try to push our weight around in directing any program." Smith asked that in the future feelings be transmitted before they are "what they are perceived to be tonight."

At the suggestion of Breashears a joint Committee was formed to lay programs on the table and work things out.

Beer Parties

Another problem was brought to the Board's attention by Breashears who informed the directors that the city was in receipt of a petition See GHI, page 8, col. 1

WOMEN'S MARCH ON WASHINGTON

Greenbelter Pearl Siegel is Prince George's County Coordinator of the National ERA March on Washington, which will take place on July 9. ERA expects it will be the largest feminist march in history. All participants are asked to dress in white. Sashes of purple and gold, the suffragist colors, will be distributed.

Pearl invites all Greenbelters who wish to do so to march under the banner of Northern Prince Georges County N.O.W. (National Organization for Women); or they may march independently.

Marchers will assemble at 11 a.m. at the 14th Street end of the Mall and march east on Constitution Avenue to the U.S. Capitol, where a rally with speakers and entertainers will take place.

For information about charter bus reservations from Prince Georges County, Call Dorothy, 474-9409 or Pearl, 474-7628.

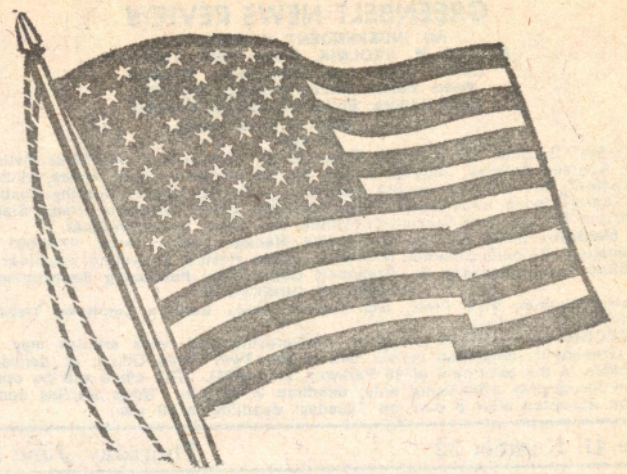

Right-Turn-On-Red July 1

On July 1, Maryland will allow right turns at red traffic lights after stopping, at most intersections. Washington, D.C., however, does not allow right turns at red lights. Maryland's Washington-area motorists (Montgomery and Prince George's counties) favor Maryland's new RTORAS law (Right Turn on Red After Stop) but, according to a statewide public opinion poll commissioned by the Maryland Department of Transportation, appear to be uncertain about the law.

Only 4% of Washington area Maryland drivers said that stopping is required before turning right. When asked if they still will have to stop for red lights, 17% said "yes." Sixteen percent of the D.C.-area Maryland motorists know that pedestrians have the right-of-way at a light. The survey also indicated that there is confusion about the District's official stance on RTORAS, which is total prohibition.

HOLIDAY REFUSE SCHEDULE

Due to the upcoming July 4 holiday on Tuesday, there will be no refuse collection on that day. The regular Monday route will be picked up on Monday, there will be no collection on Tuesday, the Tuesday route will be picked up on Wednesday. All paper will be picked up on Thursday, if possible. Refuse collection for Friday and Saturday will follow the normal schedule.

Our Flag - Show It Proudly!

Snap, Crackle, Whiz, Flash All Await Fireworks Cache

by Linda Orenstein

This year, as always, Greenbelters are looking forward to the snap, crackle, pop, whiz, bang and flash of the fireworks to be presented at Greenbelt Lake. The show is widely attended not only by city residents, but by people from surrounding areas who have heard about the razzle dazzle of the Greenbelt Independence Day celebration.

Columbus Fireworks, Inc. of Columbus, Ohio, headed by Mr. Caccavello, has been contracted this year to provide the fireworks for Greenbelt as well as Rockville. The company, established in 1902, has supplied pyrotechnic displays to Toledo, among other Ohio cities, and according to all reports has been highly praised. However, the atmosphere may get hot and crackly even before the 4th as the order has not yet been delivered to Greenbelt. Caccavello will contact a carrier to deliver them or, if all else fails, promises that he will ride like the wind, as did Paul Revere, to bring his cargo to Maryland.

The show, if it arrives, should be terrific! The bidder who came closest to Columbus Fireworks' bid of 334 shells only offered 180 shells. There will be 9", 12", 15", 18", and 24" shells in great profusion. For set piece connoisseurs there will be a Niagara Falls; a three wheel device; an American Flag as well as a Tree of Liberty; a battle scene with shooting cannons and a good-night scene. Two new additions to the program will be a blazing sun; a cave of jewels and a grand finale never before seen within the Greenbelt city limits.

Other Events

The Springhill Lake Recreation Center and the Youth Center will open their doors at 12 noon on July 4. The Firecracker Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament Championship Game will be played later in the day at 3:15 p.m. on Braden Field #2. Evening entertainment will be provided by the Greenbelt Concert Band performing its annual concert at 7:30 p.m. at the Lake Park Bandstand. The audience will be serenaded with the 1812 Overture by Peter I. Tchaikowsky; Burnet Tuthill's Overture Brillante and selections from Porgy and Bess by George Gershwin. Soloist, Charlotte Krushinski will render Jerome Kern melodies and "Crazy Sticks", a marimba solo, will be performed by Alan DelHomme.

Parents should supervise their children during the festivities and are reminded that fireworks are both dangerous and illegal. The ban on parking from the Lake to St. Hughes will be lifted on July 4, but residents are requested to walk to the Lake if possible.

What Is An American?

by Richard W. Ley

The following is a condensation of an essay submitted in the Armed Forces Letter contest sponsored by the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge. Ley's original essay won the George Washington Honor Medal Award, November, 1971.

We Americans have a rich and varied heritage. We are the Indians and Eskimos whose forefathers were the first inhabitants of the vast expanse that is America. We are the New Englanders who trace our ancestry to the Pilgrims and Puritans sailing for a new land in which to escape religious persecution. We are from any of the fifty states spawned from thirteen little colonies which dared to defy oppression and tyranny by declaring their independence. We are the Westerners whose great-grandfathers, lured by prospects of prosperity, streamed to the Pacific in a rush for gold and silver. We are the descendants of Northerners and Southerners who bitterly fought each other at Bull Run, Antietam, and Gettysburg, while a transcontinental railroad to unite East and West was being constructed. We are the sons and daughters of Irish, German, Italian, Jewish, Chinese, and Japanese immigrants "yearning to breathe free" in a country founded on freedom and respect for individual rights.

We Americans are employed in a variety of tasks contributing to the strength and prosperity, the freedom and greatness that are America. We are legislators enacting laws on behalf of our constituents in our representative democracy. We are the members of the Executive branch of our government shaping and directing American policy for our nation's welfare and safety. We are judges upholding the dignity of justice. We are policemen insuring respect for law and order within the framework of due process. We are citizens at the voting booth on Election Day exercising the most valuable privilege which liberty can bestow on free people. We are soldiers, sailors, pilots, and marines sworn to support and defend the Constitution of the United States and secure for America the blessings of liberty and freedom. We are professors and teachers guiding and inspiring students seeking truth and knowledge. We are thoughtful people peacefully dissenting in protest of our society's problems. We are scientists and engineers who used technological skills and human ingenuity to make America the first nation to catapult men into space, land them on the moon, and return them safely to earth. We are laborers cooperating with managers to produce and enjoy the benefits of the highest living standard in the world. We are farmers reaping the rich harvest of a land of abundant natural resources.

United despite our diversity, we Americans can reflect gratefully on our land of liberty as each of us proudly proclaims to the world: "I am an American."

What, Me Vote?

To the Editor:

How many times has the electorate gone to the polls without knowing whom or for what they are voting? How many times has the lever been turned for a candidate simply because the name has a ring to it, or it is the name a neighbor has mentioned time and again? Make your own choice, not the choice you have been told to make.

One cannot vote based on a steady diet of vague campaign rhetoric (although 80% of the population does); the cheshire grin on campaign literature cannot answer back. How does one go about making an informed choice? The Greenbelt Jaycees are going to help make it easier by providing a forum for all declared candidates, regardless of party affiliation, for the 24th Legislative District and School Board District 2.

Surely you have questions you've been waiting to ask the politicians. Put the candidates on the spot, make them answer your questions! Attend the forum on Monday, August 14 (the last day of voter registration before the primary), at the Greenbelt Library Meeting Room from 7:30-10:30 p.m., then decide which candidate you are going to support.

Remember, voting out of ignorance is as bad as not voting at all.

Questions on Rehabilitation

To the Editor:

The question of whether or not to replace the siding on the frame homes is, like many issues in the proposed rehab program, more complicated than it appears.

Personal preference is, of course, a perfectly legitimate issue, but many would like to base their decision on what will cost less now and in the future.

If one can do his/her own painting it might be, in the foreseeable future, cheaper to keep the present siding and repair it as the need arises. But if it is necessary to hire that work done, then over a short time it would be less expensive to put up new siding which is relatively maintenance free.

One of the major goals of the rehab program has been to cut down on maintenance costs.

Whether, in the frame homes, we should replace our present windows with thermopane windows, again is complicated, and not all the questions have been answered.

Samples: How long will it be before most of the windows will have to be replaced? Many are in bad shape now. How much will this cost? How much would replacement of windows save on the costs of trim painting?

When we have an opportunity to express an opinion on some of these issues it will be well to be guided by some basic ideas:

1. What do I want my home to look like? 2. What will serve my needs best? 3. If cost is the major factor in my decision, what will really be cheaper for me.

Chief William Lane attended the graduation programs at North End, Springhill Lake and Center Elementary Schools, and presented an award to each outstanding safety patrol at all three. In addition, each teacher safety supervisor and each school was given an award by the Chief for excellent safety records and efforts in the program.

The department has been training three additional officers as radar operators. While in training, they issued several warnings to speeders. Since speed is the main cause of accidents and highway deaths, the Chief would like to remind all residents not to exceed the speed limits. Radar will be used at different locations and times throughout the city to reduce speed. In this way, lives and property are protected.

An attempted rape was reported in a home located in the north end of the city. The suspect, known by the victim, has been arrested and charged.

As a result of traffic stops and checks, several persons were arrested for possession of controlled drugs, at several different locations within the city.

Officers David N. Fulgham and Thomas M. Ceccarelli were promoted to the rank of Corporal, effective June 18. Corporal Fulgham has been a member of the Department since November, 1971, and in addition to attending several advanced police training schools, has received his B.S. degree in Law Enforcement. Corporal Ceccarelli has been employed with the Department since January 1975. He has a B.S. degree in Law Enforcement and has also attended several advanced police training schools.

The C.E.T.A. funded position of Records Clerk has been filled by the employment of Ms. Laura A. Abernathy of Landover, Maryland. Ms. Abernathy has had prior experience working in positions with the federal government and has attended Howard University, University of Maryland and presently is attending Southeastern University.

After receiving information from a resident concerning child abuse, a four year-old child was taken into protective police custody as the child appeared to have been severely beaten. Upon investigation, the mother was charged with child abuse.

Officer Justin, while off patrol, observed a person tampering with a parked vehicle. Upon investigation, he found that a juvenile resident was attempting to steal gas. The juvenile was released to his parents.

SWIM TEAM NEWS

by Sue Jones

Pointer Ridge edged by Greenbelt last Saturday, 274-247, but not without a strong Greenbelt showing. Susan Gardes, James and Amy Fellows, and Craig Dies swam undefeated for the maximum 15 points. James and Amy joined Tara Yaney and Bill Gillett in capturing first place in the league's first 8 & under Relay event. Other high point scorers were: Mark Blue-13, Ken and Lynda Blue, and Bob Gillett-11, Brian Dies-10, Tara Yaney-9, Carolyn Yaney-8, Simone Bram, Mark Creller, Yours Truly and Colin Aldridge-7, and Cole Lauber and Sean Fellows with 6 points each.

This Saturday, Greenbelt faces Forest Pool at home. Swimmers and parents should be at the pool by 8:30 a.m.

CITY NOTES

Corrective measures were taken on pipes at the pool which were suspected of leaking. Also, water has been seeping through the deck, following the pipelines and muddying the adjacent field. This last problem has not yet been solved.

The Lake Park was extremely littered Monday morning. It was cleaned as were other parks and playgrounds.

A rustic rail fence was installed on the west side of the addition to the Municipal Building. Signs were posted at the new parking lot. A "Stop" sign was installed at the intersection of Hanover Parkway and Mandan Rd.

The paper collection netted 7 tons and 420 lbs. last week.

Camp Pine Tree's first two-week session began June 26 with eighty youngsters registered.

Summer playgrounds, co-sponsored with the MNCPPC also began on June 26 at the North End Elementary School and Springhill Lake Recreation Center.

VENETOULIS VISITS CITY

Ted Venetoulis, Democratic candidate for governor, hit the streets of Greenbelt with 20 volunteers on June 16. Venetoulis met many Greenbelters from 61 Court Ridge with his Greenbelt volunteers. McCarthy Fund Raiser

A crowd of well-wishers gathered in the Social Hall of the Greenbelt Community Church June 18 to help Tony McCarthy celebrate not only Father's Day and his birthday but also the start of his campaign for the House of Delegates.

Among the more than 100 attending were Senator Edward Conroy and Delegates Jerry Devlin and Charles J. Ryan. Conroy and Devlin both spoke, with Devlin describing McCarthy as "a young man of great promise" and one who could "serve as a bridge between the Bowie and Greenbelt communities."

All in all, the affair was more party than politics. Not only was there lots of birthday cake and a do-it-yourself-sundaes bar, but the guests were entertained by the Celtic Folk, a folk-singing group from the Irish-Inn. Topping it off were door prizes which were awarded throughout the afternoon. Prize winners included the Reverend Kenneth Buker, Betty Allen, Mary Clarke, and Sherry Taylor.

On June 10, Laney Hester, President of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge #89 serving Prince Georges County, announced his endorsement of McCarthy for the House of Delegates.

How to cut your heating and cooling bills: Insulate!

If last winter's heating bills seemed pretty high, maybe your home needs re-insulating. Fact is, most homes built before 1970 are inadequately insulated by today's standards.

Good wall and attic insulation helps keep hot air out in the summer and warm air in during the winter and gives you balanced comfort throughout your home.

A recent study by our Research Department of gas heated homes in the Washington area showed an average 20% reduction in gas used for heating during the 1976-1977 heating season after re-insulation (overall savings ranged from 7 to 38%).

In addition to re-insulating, it's important that you check windows and doors. Weatherstripping of doors and caulking of windows where needed also help cut heating and cooling bills.

False Alarm at Center

A false alarm brought the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and fire companies from neighboring communities to High's Store in the Greenbelt Shopping Center, Thursday night, June 22.

A juvenile who was witnessed turning in the alarm was turned over to the fire marshal for prosecution.

from members in the area near the GHI offices regarding beer parties in the nearby woods. There were cars racing up and down the road, loud music, etc. City Manager James Giese had suggested that GHI erect a gate. Breashears suggested police checks would solve the problem because there is no exit to the road and cars, especially, could be caught in the area. He felt a gate would bar access to gardeners and users of the boat and trailer courts. Also, he felt those responsible for the noise would go around the gate and through the gardens. The board decided to refer the problem to management and the parking committee to see what could be worked out.

Rehabilitation Questionnaire

After much debate about whether or not to send out a questionnaire to members regarding their wishes for the rehabilitation program, the board voted to send it out. The consensus seemed to be that they needed to have some indication of members' preferences before a package can be put together for membership approval or amendment. Directors Margaret Hogensen and Clarke voiced misgivings about the questionnaire and felt further work should be done on it.

The board approved an expenditure not to exceed $18,000 to renovate the Administration building. They voted to increase the retainer fee of Attorney Albert Ginsberg from $425 to $525 per month effective July 1 because he is having to spend more time on corporation matters.

A plan to resurface the third boat and trailer court was tabled until the manager can look into security problems. Director Virginia Moryadas had questioned spending money on resurfacing when she felt adding security measures was more important since there had been a break-in.

Breashears received a grant for weatherization for five homes. People who qualified under the section 8 (low income supplement program) were identified by their number on the list so identification would not be possible to anyone but staff. Then numbers were drawn by a member present at the meeting, Ray McCawley. Members' numbers from 2 bricks and 3 frame homes were drawn, plus 3 back-up numbers.

Smith asked about the status of a HUD Neighborhood Strategies grant. Kopstein related that the city must send out an endorsement saying it is consistent with community development. Smith will attend the city council meeting on Monday in regard to this.

Smith read a letter from Eleanor Roosevelt High School expressing appreciation for GHI's alliance with the vocational program and informing the board that the student had learned useful job skills and had developed a better self concept.

Miscellaneous

Breashears informed the board that GHI is taking a survey of the amount of falling insulation under the houses. The board voted to purchase as many as 9 cars needed to replace those bought in 1963. (And Smith asked that a policy for further replacement be developed. The board denied a member's request to build a new foundation for his shed, and referred to the management questions that Hogenesen had regarding suggesting rehabilitation materials.

Chamber Orchestra Invites Musicians

The Greenbelt Chamber Orchestra is an informal string ensemble which meets on alternate Tuesday evenings. The primary aim of this organization is for the enjoyment of the music-making and no auditions will be held. During the summer the group will be reading through the Bach Suites, some Bach concerti, a Handel Concerto Grosso and other works by Vivaldi, Haydn, Grieg, Gustaf Holst, and Bach.

The orchestra invites all interested string players to come, even if they are unable to attend all rehearsals. Those interested in performing solo parts or concerti are especially welcome. Rehearsals are held in the Greenbelt Youth Center in the Multi-purpose Room from 7:30 to 9:30 on Tuesday evenings. During the summer months rehearsals will be held on: July 11, July 25, Aug. 8, and Aug. 22. Additional information can be obtained from Catherine Kerst at 345-5989 in the evenings.
